

THE DAILY DEMOCRAT.
PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.,
THIRD STREET,
East side, between Market and Jefferson streets.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING NOTICE.—An advertisement of Public Meetings, Masonic, Odd Fellows, F. & A. M., &c., are offered at one insertion, and twenty-five cents each subsequent insertion.
A. C. HARRINGTON, Attorney-at-Law, Wanted, Religious, Charitable, Marriage and Ordinary Notices. Of five lines or less, are charged twenty-five cents each insertion.
Advertisements published in the morning paper will receive preference over those in the evening paper.
ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED IN ADVANCE.

SATURDAY, - - - MAY 24, 1856.

The mob organ begins to shriek out again for the aid of his out-thrusts, as he did previous to the last August election. Foreigners are coming from the old world, or about to come, in vast multitudes, and they are coming to rule the country. They have begun to "avow boldly and exultingly their determination, peaceably if they can, and forcibly if they must," to control our federal and State governments. They are going "to rule or ruin," and "by a desecration of the ballot-box, or, if necessary, at the point of the bayonet, to teach native born citizens that the foreign population have the power here, and will exercise it for their own aggrandizement, and for the degradation of the sons of the soil." These are but specimens of a column or two; and to enforce it, rabid inquisitors of Louisville? Let any one read what injures Louisville? Let any one read what proclaims a war of race, and abound in the most inflammatory and incendiary suggestions. He warns natives of their approaching degradation under foreign domination. Foreigners are not raving now, they are arrogant and exultant. They and the Catholics are aiming for the power to crush out natives and Protestants. This is but a bugle note to the east—those who have, to break up the enemies on their alleged enemies. Of course, if this is the tone of Louisville, foreigners will not come to this city, nor will those who stay who can get away. It is a distinct notice of what is to be expected here at every contest—a war of races followed up by some similar to those we have been through. This, too, comes from an editor who got upon his knees, crawled on his belly, and licked the feet of foreigners and Catholics in 1852, for the sake of their votes. He was dismisse with real and fury against the prescription of Catholics. Now, to get power, he is ready to summon the vildest passions on vengeance on the two classes of our citizens. He leads them with columns, proclaim them enemies, striving to apprehend the most imminent dangers. Now, we warn the people of Louisville again, that this vile inflammatory staff will lead to blood, and riot, and disorder. They have suffered enough; but here is the foreshadowing of a repetition of the same deeds that have brought disgrace and shame to this city. We were told the other day that Germans, once priding business men, were returning to this city. Here is a notice for them to leave, and against whom they obtained it, his out-spewing might go in Kentucky unanswered. In Ohio, the contest was between the Democrats and Abolitionists—the former won the victory. The Kentuckians who had become citizens of Chicago voting with the friends of the South. The city is now under the control of the national party, and it is the party that is abused in the Journal as the party of foreigners. Kentuckians, mark that! The editor abuses Chicago under the pretense that foreigners control it; but the true reason is, that his friends, the Abolitionists, were beaten. That is what is in the mind with the editor. The very same is true of Cincinnati, New York, and Albany. The Abolitionists were routed in these cities. The contest was not upon nativism; it was between the friends of the constitution and the rights of the South, and Abolitionists. The former succeeded, and the Abolitionists at the head of the Journal does not assail the successful party on the real issue that placed them in power. It would not do to touch that; but he raves above foreigners, when, in fact, the question of nativism had but little to do with the contest in most of these cities. It was white man against negro; and it is quite rational that the editor of the Journal should go for the woolly tribe; but he must do so on false pretenses.

You, the people of Kentucky, are to be taught to paddle out the vituperations of the Journal against your own friends in the free States, under the name of the foreign party. The editor has the impudence to quote as authority in the territories of the United States, are briefly, but clearly explained in the subjoined letter to General Cass:

WASHINGTON, May 13, 1856.

MY DEAR Sir.—A friend stated to me yesterday that he understood you to say that I did not concur in your views and power of the Constitution to prohibit slavery in a Territory. I do not doubt that Congress had this power, but I could never have expressed any doubt on the subject.

You may well know that I have, in conversation with you, often said that Congress had no power to establish a territorial government, right in the exercise of a police power, prohibit slavery, although they had no constitutional power to do it.

I informed my friend that I was sure he misquoted you. I drop this note that in the publication of your speech you may correct any mistake of the stenographer on this subject.

Very truly yours, JOHN MCLEAN.

HON. L. CASS.

General Cass replied as follows:

WASHINGTON, May 13, 1856.

MY DEAR Sir.—I received your note just as I was preparing to resume my speech, and therefore could not answer you then. Your informant is in error. I do not mean to present precisely the view I took in 1850.

I have just looked it over, and I find I have said nothing of your denial of the power. It refers to your opinion that Congress has no right to control the domestic relations, and introduces a quotation from Mr. Webster's speech of 1819 in which you deny the power of Congress to interfere with the internal Territories. If I can get a copy of that part of my remarks this afternoon, I will send it to you; but, I repeat, the views I have presented of the question are little more than a repetition of my own.

I am, dear Sir, truly yours, LEWIS CASS.

HON. JOHN L. LEAN.

The Louisville Riots.—The Louisville Daily Democrat, we are pleased to see, does not share in the indignation of the riot that disgraced that city last year. Its severe and continued ostracism of the press and individuals that instigated it, is worthy of all commendation. In its course an attempt was made to prevent the publication of the paper by withdrawing from the columns of the Democrat advertisements, and by curtailing his subscription list. But never was failure so signal as this dying effort of Louisville Know-Nothingism. For every withdrawal of advertising patronage or subscription that paper received, resulted in a double reward; and the proprietors have been left to mourn their defeat.

Not long since a magnificent silver pitcher was presented to the editor of the Democrat for his zealous services in expelling and denouncing the Louisville "Know-Nothing." Every one who heard of this was greatly delighted, and was sure that the editor had at least a double reward.

While American liberty, departing from narrow boundaries, was a faith and doctrine for all devotees of whatever birth, race, or religion, and ignored all questions of family or nativity, while it spoke manly to the world its faith; a secret, half-bound organization brought from its caverns, from the chilling gloom of the internal regions, the bitter prejudices of self-haters, the proscriptions of Paraisism, and the demoniac fury of bigots.

American liberty was inaugurated for more noble purposes. Christianity in life and practice had, then, a better foothold in the sympathies of men. Their own wrongs, then, awakened their thoughts to the wrongs of others; their own swelling desire for the free exercise of individual rights, emboldened in its broad circle the rights of every associate in a common devotion, and they repudiated the barriers of British power that all might labor with equal safeguard in the great field of a common country and a common civilization. Hence was planted the liberty of the Athenian Democracy, and the philanthropy of the Christian dispensation—love to one's neighbor and individual freedom. These two effigient jewels were combined in the corset of American independence. Manhood and truth were also cultivated and cherished, the southwardly turned and the blust truth spoken Saxon.

Suddenly all these antecedents are ignored, and the plainest and most outspoken duties of civil life, is installed in the gloom of midnight lodges, under the brigandage of impious oathsmen. Suddenly hosts of many freemen are converted into sneaking, groveling runners of the mysterious shibboleth "Sam," and men pride themselves on that once honorable and chivalric city. The following is an inscription on the pitcher.

A Tribute of Respect.

JOHN H. HARNEY,
Editor of the Democrat.

By citizens of Louisville, for his efficient advocacy of the principles of

CIVIL AND RELIGIOUS LIBERTY,

And his bold defense of law and order against bigotry and lawlessness.

At the same time, we see it stated, that the handsome sum of Five Hundred Dollars was also presented for the use of the "Democrats." Such demonstrations on the part of citizens of Louisville are highly commendable, and promise well for the future. One need doubt that an independent press, with such a powerful ally as John H. Harney, and with the dauntless power to whom he is cheered on his work of reform, will fail in its effort. With truth, justice, and right all on his side, we look with pleasure to the day when the last vestiges of the old world order, and the crimes which obscured the sun of liberty, shall be buried in the deep ocean of oblivion.

James Dugan, drunkenness. Let off on promise.

Mary Cook, warrant for assault and battery on Catherine "child" peace warrant. Dismissed at defendant's costs.

The Louisville Democrit.—The Louisville Daily Democrat, we are pleased to see, does not share in the indignation of the riot that disgraced that city last year. Its severe and continued ostracism of the press and individuals that instigated it, is worthy of all commendation. In its course an attempt was made to prevent the publication of the paper by withdrawing from the columns of the Democrat advertisements, and by curtailing his subscription list. But never was failure so signal as this dying effort of Louisville Know-Nothingism. For every withdrawal of advertising patronage or subscription that paper received, resulted in a double reward; and the proprietors have been left to mourn their defeat.

Not long since a magnificent silver pitcher was presented to the editor of the Democrat for his zealous services in expelling and denouncing the Louisville "Know-Nothing."

Every one who heard of this was greatly delighted, and was sure that the editor had at least a double reward.

While American liberty, departing from narrow boundaries, was a faith and doctrine for all devotees of whatever birth, race, or religion, and ignored all questions of family or nativity, while it spoke manly to the world its faith; a secret, half-bound organization brought from its caverns, from the chilling gloom of the internal regions, the bitter prejudices of self-haters, the proscriptions of Paraisism, and the demoniac fury of bigots.

American liberty was inaugurated for more noble purposes. Christianity in life and practice had, then, a better foothold in the sympathies of men. Their own wrongs, then, awakened their thoughts to the wrongs of others; their own swelling desire for the free exercise of individual rights, emboldened in its broad circle the rights of every associate in a common devotion, and they repudiated the barriers of British power that all might labor with equal safeguard in the great field of a common country and a common civilization. Hence was planted the liberty of the Athenian Democracy, and the philanthropy of the Christian dispensation—love to one's neighbor and individual freedom. These two effigient jewels were combined in the corset of American independence. Manhood and truth were also cultivated and cherished, the southwardly turned and the blust truth spoken Saxon.

Suddenly all these antecedents are ignored, and the plainest and most outspoken duties of civil life, is installed in the gloom of midnight lodges, under the brigandage of impious oathsmen. Suddenly hosts of many freemen are converted into sneaking, groveling runners of the mysterious shibboleth "Sam," and men pride themselves on that once honorable and chivalric city. The following is an inscription on the pitcher.

A Tribute of Respect.

JOHN H. HARNEY,
Editor of the Democrat.

By citizens of Louisville, for his efficient advocacy of the principles of

CIVIL AND RELIGIOUS LIBERTY,

And his bold defense of law and order against bigotry and lawlessness.

At the same time, we see it stated, that the handsome sum of Five Hundred Dollars was also presented for the use of the "Democrats."

Such demonstrations on the part of citizens of Louisville are highly commendable, and promise well for the future. One need doubt that an independent press, with such a powerful ally as John H. Harney, and with the dauntless power to whom he is cheered on his work of reform, will fail in its effort. With truth, justice, and right all on his side, we look with pleasure to the day when the last vestiges of the old world order, and the crimes which obscured the sun of liberty, shall be buried in the deep ocean of oblivion.

James Dugan, drunkenness. Let off on promise.

Mary Cook, warrant for assault and battery on Catherine "child" peace warrant. Dismissed at defendant's costs.

The Louisville Democrit.—The Louisville Daily Democrat, we are pleased to see, does not share in the indignation of the riot that disgraced that city last year. Its severe and continued ostracism of the press and individuals that instigated it, is worthy of all commendation. In its course an attempt was made to prevent the publication of the paper by withdrawing from the columns of the Democrat advertisements, and by curtailing his subscription list. But never was failure so signal as this dying effort of Louisville Know-Nothingism. For every withdrawal of advertising patronage or subscription that paper received, resulted in a double reward; and the proprietors have been left to mourn their defeat.

Not long since a magnificent silver pitcher was presented to the editor of the Democrat for his zealous services in expelling and denouncing the Louisville "Know-Nothing."

Every one who heard of this was greatly delighted, and was sure that the editor had at least a double reward.

While American liberty, departing from narrow boundaries, was a faith and doctrine for all devotees of whatever birth, race, or religion, and ignored all questions of family or nativity, while it spoke manly to the world its faith; a secret, half-bound organization brought from its caverns, from the chilling gloom of the internal regions, the bitter prejudices of self-haters, the proscriptions of Paraisism, and the demoniac fury of bigots.

American liberty was inaugurated for more noble purposes. Christianity in life and practice had, then, a better foothold in the sympathies of men. Their own wrongs, then, awakened their thoughts to the wrongs of others; their own swelling desire for the free exercise of individual rights, emboldened in its broad circle the rights of every associate in a common devotion, and they repudiated the barriers of British power that all might labor with equal safeguard in the great field of a common country and a common civilization. Hence was planted the liberty of the Athenian Democracy, and the philanthropy of the Christian dispensation—love to one's neighbor and individual freedom. These two effigient jewels were combined in the corset of American independence. Manhood and truth were also cultivated and cherished, the southwardly turned and the blust truth spoken Saxon.

Suddenly all these antecedents are ignored, and the plainest and most outspoken duties of civil life, is installed in the gloom of midnight lodges, under the brigandage of impious oathsmen. Suddenly hosts of many freemen are converted into sneaking, groveling runners of the mysterious shibboleth "Sam," and men pride themselves on that once honorable and chivalric city. The following is an inscription on the pitcher.

A Tribute of Respect.

JOHN H. HARNEY,
Editor of the Democrat.

By citizens of Louisville, for his efficient advocacy of the principles of

CIVIL AND RELIGIOUS LIBERTY,

And his bold defense of law and order against bigotry and lawlessness.

At the same time, we see it stated, that the handsome sum of Five Hundred Dollars was also presented for the use of the "Democrats."

Such demonstrations on the part of citizens of Louisville are highly commendable, and promise well for the future. One need doubt that an independent press, with such a powerful ally as John H. Harney, and with the dauntless power to whom he is cheered on his work of reform, will fail in its effort. With truth, justice, and right all on his side, we look with pleasure to the day when the last vestiges of the old world order, and the crimes which obscured the sun of liberty, shall be buried in the deep ocean of oblivion.

James Dugan, drunkenness. Let off on promise.

Mary Cook, warrant for assault and battery on Catherine "child" peace warrant. Dismissed at defendant's costs.

The Louisville Democrit.—The Louisville Daily Democrat, we are pleased to see, does not share in the indignation of the riot that disgraced that city last year. Its severe and continued ostracism of the press and individuals that instigated it, is worthy of all commendation. In its course an attempt was made to prevent the publication of the paper by withdrawing from the columns of the Democrat advertisements, and by curtailing his subscription list. But never was failure so signal as this dying effort of Louisville Know-Nothingism. For every withdrawal of advertising patronage or subscription that paper received, resulted in a double reward; and the proprietors have been left to mourn their defeat.

Not long since a magnificent silver pitcher was presented to the editor of the Democrat for his zealous services in expelling and denouncing the Louisville "Know-Nothing."

Every one who heard of this was greatly delighted, and was sure that the editor had at least a double reward.

While American liberty, departing from narrow boundaries, was a faith and doctrine for all devotees of whatever birth, race, or religion, and ignored all questions of family or nativity, while it spoke manly to the world its faith; a secret, half-bound organization brought from its caverns, from the chilling gloom of the internal regions, the bitter prejudices of self-haters, the proscriptions of Paraisism, and the demoniac fury of bigots.

American liberty was inaugurated for more noble purposes. Christianity in life and practice had, then, a better foothold in the sympathies of men. Their own wrongs, then, awakened their thoughts to the wrongs of others; their own swelling desire for the free exercise of individual rights, emboldened in its broad circle the rights of every associate in a common devotion, and they repudiated the barriers of British power that all might labor with equal safeguard in the great field of a common country and a common civilization. Hence was planted the liberty of the Athenian Democracy, and the philanthropy of the Christian dispensation—love to one's neighbor and individual freedom. These two effigient jewels were combined in the corset of American independence. Manhood and truth were also cultivated and cherished, the southwardly turned and the blust truth spoken Saxon.

Suddenly all these antecedents are ignored, and the plainest and most outspoken duties of civil life, is installed in the gloom of midnight lodges, under the brigandage of impious oathsmen. Suddenly hosts of many freemen are converted into sneaking, groveling runners of the mysterious shibboleth "Sam," and men pride themselves on that once honorable and chivalric city. The following is an inscription on the pitcher.

A Tribute of Respect.

JOHN H. HARNEY,
Editor of the Democrat.

By citizens of Louisville, for his efficient advocacy of the principles of

CIVIL AND RELIGIOUS LIBERTY,

And his bold defense of law and order against bigotry and lawlessness.

At the same time, we see it stated, that the handsome sum of Five Hundred Dollars was also presented for the use of the "Democrats."

Such demonstrations on the part of citizens of Louisville are highly commendable, and promise well for the future. One need doubt that an independent press, with such a powerful ally as John H. Harney, and with the dauntless power to whom he is cheered on his work of reform, will fail in its effort. With truth, justice, and right all on his side, we look with pleasure to the day when the last vestiges of the old world order, and the crimes which obscured the sun of liberty, shall be buried in the deep ocean of oblivion.

James Dugan, drunkenness. Let off on promise.

Mary Cook, warrant for assault and battery on Catherine "child" peace warrant. Dismissed at defendant's costs.

The Louisville Democrit.—The Louisville Daily Democrat, we are pleased to see, does not share in the indignation of the riot that disgraced that city last year. Its severe and continued ostracism of the press and individuals that instigated it, is worthy of all commendation. In its course an attempt was made to prevent the publication of the paper by withdrawing from the columns of the Democrat advertisements, and by curtailing his subscription list. But never was failure so signal as this dying effort of Louisville Know-Nothingism. For every withdrawal of advertising patronage or subscription that paper received, resulted in a double reward; and the proprietors have been left to mourn their defeat.

Not long since a magnificent silver pitcher was presented to the editor of the Democrat for his zealous services in expelling and denouncing the Louisville "Know-Nothing."

Every one who heard of this was greatly delighted, and was sure that the editor had at least a double reward.

While American liberty, departing from narrow boundaries, was a faith and doctrine for all devotees of whatever birth, race, or religion, and ignored all questions of family or nativity, while it spoke manly to the world its faith; a secret, half-bound organization brought from its caverns, from the chilling gloom of the internal regions, the bitter prejudices of self-haters, the proscriptions of Paraisism, and the demoniac fury of bigots.

American liberty was inaugurated for more noble purposes. Christianity in life and practice had, then, a better foothold in the sympathies of men. Their own wrongs, then, awakened their thoughts to the wrongs of others; their own swelling desire for the free exercise of individual rights, emboldened in its broad circle the rights of every associate in a common devotion, and they repudiated the barriers of British power that all might labor with equal safeguard in the great field of a common country and a common civilization. Hence was planted the liberty of the Athenian Democracy, and the philanthropy of the Christian dispensation—love to one's neighbor and individual freedom. These two effigient jewels were combined in the corset of American independence. Manhood and truth were also cultivated and cherished, the southwardly turned and the blust truth spoken Saxon.

Suddenly all these antecedents are ignored, and the plainest and most outspoken duties of civil life, is installed in the gloom of midnight lodges, under the brigandage of impious oathsmen. Suddenly hosts of many freemen are converted into sneaking, groveling runners of the mysterious shibboleth "Sam," and men pride themselves on that once honorable and chivalric city. The following is an inscription on the pitcher.

A Tribute of Respect.

JOHN H. HARNEY,
Editor of the Democrat.

WANTS.

WANTED.
I WISH TO HIRE A COLOR-ED GIRL, from 15 to 18 years of age, to attend
my son, who is ill in bed, at No. 15,
Main st., between Sixth and Seventh.

WANTED.

A SITUATION IN A GROCERY
FOR A COMMISSION HOUSE by a young man who can give the very best of references. Address Mrs. Louisville Democratic office.

SERVANTS WANTED

FOR THE ST. CHARLES HOTEL
at Portland. Several good dining room servants Application can be made to my own Hotel.

Or J. W. BENETING.

GRAIN WANTED.

WE WILL PAY THE HIGHEST PRICE FOR WHEAT, OATS, RYE & RISON, Standard
grade. Terms 30 days. Write to P. B. BENETING, Ind.

Wanted.

TWO EXPERIENCED DRY
GOODS SALESMEN. None other equal terms.
W. H. BENETING, Indianapolis, Ind.

Wanted.

A WET NURSE. APPLY AT
A. Mrs. Niven's, on Market, between Seven and Eight streets.

Wanted.

A SITUATION AS BAR-KEEPER
by a Frenchman, who speaks English and German, and who is acquainted with the business. Good references. Apply at this office.

W. H. BENETING.

WANTED.

TWENTY-ONE JOURNEYMEN
SHOEMAKERS wanted. Apply at No. 42
Market Street, between Fourth and Fifth.
SAMUEL P. SEAGREN.

COAT, PANT, AND VEST HANDS
wanted at $5. Mail street, between Second and Third.
A. D. SANFELIX.

A. J. ALEXANDER WANTS TI
TI to sell him 100 lbs. of LUMBER, at which particular price for cash. Offer the best prices and Campbellstree.

WANTED. WE ARE PAYING THE
market price for Louisville and Nashville Railroad Stock and Supplies.

HUTCHINGS & CO.

WANTED. NORTH AND SOUTH
and South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, and Illinois Bank Notes. HUTCHINGS & CO.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Spinal Affection Cured.
P. Gause & Co.—Gentle: This is to certify that I have been afflicted with a Spinal affection for nearly five years, which was caused by straining my back in August, 1840. In January, 1841—engaged in a series of operations, and all the usual signs of moderation and cooling with calomel left me not knowing the nature of the disease. But in January, 1841, it was a violent cold, which caused the mercury to settle in my back and legs, causing the muscles to contract and cramp me so hard that it produced two turns in the spinal column; thereby rendering my lower extremities entirely useless, not being able to walk or stand, or move my legs, and causing me to fall over and over again, so that I never would be any more. But in January, 1841, I commenced taking the Oriental or Sovereign Pill, made by you, and found them truly a Saverian Balm, and to the astonishment of all,
before I had taken six boxes, I began to move my legs, and in March, 1841, I am able to walk three or four steps at a time. It is by the use of your Pills alone that I enjoy my present health and activity, and I can safely recommend them to all sick. If any doubt the statements, they can have positive proof by calling on my residence in Elizabethtown, Jefferson County
ALVIN COOK.

June 7, 1841.

RAYMOND & FATTEN, Agents for Louisville, Ky.
A. S. BURL, M.D. & CO., New Albany, Ind., Prescribers for the south and west.

Wanted.

Forster on Consumption &c.

JUST PUBLISHED.—Sixty Pages—Price ONE DIME:

“CONSUMPTION and SCROFULA;

A Popular Treatise on the most important Diseases relative to the South, the North, Nature, and Causes.

BY J. J. FORSTER, M. D.

It is now published, and is to be had at every Druggist's, and practical surgeon's and medical apothecary's shop, in the city of Louisville, and in every town in Kentucky.

It is not unlike any book on Consumption, and the same will be sold at a low price.

It is well worth the price.

FOR SALE & RENT.

To Lease,

FOR A TERM OF YEARS,
A two-story Frame House, with seven acres of ground, suitable for a grocery and wagon-arival. The ground front on Second Street, and Kingsbury streets. Rent very low. Inquire of the Proprietor.

For Sale,

A DESIRABLE HOUSE AND
LOT, on the corner of Sixth and Main streets,
known as the Lyon House, near the Palace Warehouses. This corner is central, and its incensive value for business purposes is beyond question.
It is worth to king all, as it will be sold wand on easy terms—the owner desiring to go West in short time. Inquiries, apply to Mr. J. T. NORWICH.

For Sale,

A LOT, HAVING ON IT A Frame Cottage, with two rooms, a sunroom, kitchen, with a large porch. There is also a fine stable on the lot. This property lies on the T. L. Lots front 20 feet on Fourteenth street, and extends back 100 feet. It did not cost a private sale terms—One-half cash, and the balance in two years, interest due date, and a rent each year.

By A. BRAZ.

Flouring Mill for Sale.
A FLOURING MILL WITH CA-PACITY to make about fifty barrels flour per day, situated in a fine wheat neighborhood, is offered for sale at $10,000. STEWART & SON, 35 Wall st.

For Sale.

THREE BEAUTIFUL SITES FOR Residence or residences. Two of the front on the Newburg turnpike, 1½ miles from the city, and 4 in front to ten acres each. The other two acres all the land of the above mentioned lots is in the greatest state of cultivation, and cannot be surpassed. All the land of the above mentioned lots has an excellent stream and out-buildings. Particulars will be given to any who may inquire. Write to me, as I have no time to go to see them. The Customer from a distance may always rely on a large stock of flour, and my prices will suit all.

april 20th

A FARM, CONSISTING OF 12
acres, lying near Hobbs' Depot, on the Louisville & Newburg road. For particular details
NOCK, WICKS & CO., 35 C. M. GEORGE, ON THE OTHER SIDE.

For Sale.

VALUABLE PROPERTY.
THE DOUBLE TWO-STORY
Brick Building on the southeast corner of Main and Fifteenth streets is offered for sale for one-half cash, and the balance on $1,000 monthly, until the property is paid off. It has seven rooms, in one of which is a commodious office. The building is well adapted for two families
—has an excellent stream and out-buildings. Particulars will be given to any who may inquire. Write to me, as I have no time to go to see them. The Customer from a distance may always rely on a large stock of flour, and my prices will suit all.

april 20th

R. BICCS & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS OF
LIGHTNING RODS,
OF THE BEST QUALITY AND LATEST STYLE,
Wholesale and Retail.

ALSO—BRASS FOUNDERS AND

WIRHORN, NO. 61 FIFTH STREET, between Main and Market, Louisville, Ky.

april 20th

N. E. NUTTING GOULD,
Manufacturer and Wholesale and Retail Dealer in ALL KINDS OF
LIGHTNING RODS,
OF SUPERIOR QUALITY.

ALSO—DEALER IN PATENT
IRON PUMPS.

WE MANUFACTURE, AND
have always on hand, Iron and Steel Pumps, of the most approved kinds, tht will be sure to do well, and will refund the money if they fail to give a satisfaction.

BARBAROUX & SNOWDEN.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

S. P. CURTIS WOULD GIVE NO- thing but his best to his traveling public, that he has taken up abode in the Hotel at the Cave, and that he is now prepared to accommodate all travelers in a most comfortable style, hoping by constant attention to merit a high reputation.

J. H. GARRETT, Proprietor.

Mammoth Cave, Kentucky.
The Hotel at the Cave,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

A. SIT HAS BEEN REPORTED that his well and favorably known Hotel is closed on account of the death of its late proprietor, that is to inform our friends and the public that he will be succeeded by Mr. J. H. Garret, who is now managing the hotel in a most comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

The National Hotel,
SITUATED AT THE CORNER OF Fourth and Main Streets, is now open for the accommodation of the public.

The Building is entirely new, Furniture, Bedding,
The entrance to the Hotel is on Fourth street, near Main.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.

THE HOTEL AT THE CAVE,
which is capable of accommodating 400 persons,
and furnished in a most elegant and comfortable style. Per-ferring season will find the accommodations equal
to those of the best hotels.

Notice.